

Application for the Richard C. Overton Prize of the Lexington Group: 2022

The Lexington Group seeks to promote the scholarly study of transportation history by awarding study grants that honor one of the organization's founders, Richard C. Overton. Individual awards in amounts of up to $3,000 each are now available to qualified applicants to help underwrite expenses connected with scholarly research on a field in transportation history at archives and libraries. Please send your application—if by regular mail, to Carlos A. Schwantes, 620 Spring Meadows Drive, Ballwin, Missouri 63011. OR if by email, send it to caschwantes@sbcglobal.net. Applications must be dated and sent no later than May 31, 2022. Applicants can expect to be notified of committee decisions by September 1, 2022.

Name: _____

Mailing Address: _____

Academic Affiliation (if any): _____

Colleges and Universities attended and degrees earned: _____

Provide a summary description of your project in the space provided here:

Explain briefly in the space provided here how you would to use the Overton Prize money, if awarded to you, to further your research project described above:

Have you applied for similar help with your project from any other sources? If so, please provide the names and addresses of those organizations.

To what degree do you think your project would have an impact on the study of transportation history? Would it be mainly of local, regional, or general interest if it were published as a book or article or delivered as a spoken public presentation?

Please feel free to include with this application cover sheet any supporting documents you wish to submit to the Overton Prize Committee.

Finally, please list your email address in case the Overton Prize Committee needs to contact you.
_____. My preferred email address should you have any questions is: caschwantes@sbcglobal.net.

[End of Application Cover Sheet]